Artistar Jewels is Sold Out at Palazzo dei Giureconsulti

Yoko Ono, Pol Bury and Faust Cardinali are the special guests.

From the 22nd until the 25th of February 2018 at Palazzo Giureconsulti in Milan. It's the save the date given by Artistar Jewels to all the experts and all the contemporary jewelry lovers.

Artistar Jewels is an event that gives an international and original perspective on the contemporary jewelry world, showing us the latest trends. The creatives will show their artworks, unique pieces or small series, selected according to their artistic value, technical testing & stylistic research. All the pieces are going to be sold on our website www.artistarsewels.com starting from next February, and the platform will be even more contemporary thanks to an accurate restyling.

The Artistar Jewels participants are also involved in a contest and a jury made by experts is assigning the following awards:

Three winners will have the chance to join for free Artistar Jewels 2019 and to be part of the special contents of the 2019 book. One designer under 27 has the chance to participate for free in a goldsmithing course held by Scuola Orafa Ambrosiana of Milan: a unique chance to learn the most important lab techniques, creating different artworks. Two selected designers will also take part for free in two international fairs of this field in 2018: Sieraad Art Fair in Amsterdam and AUIT International Contemporary Jewelry Fair in Bucarest.

30 creations selected from the jury will be the protagonists of a moving exhibition in prestigious European galleries and international concept stores: as partners of the event, they are selecting some pieces among the exhibited ones to enrich their showcases.
