This delightful southern wine by Azienda Agricola Caccamo (https://www.aziendaagricolacaccamo.it/) originates from Taurianova in the province of Reggio Calabria and is crafted from the Greco Bianco grape of the Calabria region. In the glass, it exhibits straw-yellow and subtle orange hues. Fresh citrus notes accentuate its light-bodied yet complex character, leading to a refreshing finish. This bottle proudly carries the name "Allucia," derived from "Lucia," meaning light. It's a 100% Grillo wine with 12% alcohol, representing the essence of pure Sicilian craftsmanship, planted, grown, and harvested in 2.5 hectares of land dedicated solely to its production. Its luminosity mirrors the freshness and acidity that make it an ideal aperitivo or pairing with seafood mains. Well done to the team at Societa Agricola Tenute Navarra
